Babylon 5: Between the Darkness and the Light. Posted on October 9, 2020 by Roger Pocock. I love the title of this episode almost as much as what happens in it. The line is a part of the Minbari mantra from the Grey Council. They stand between the darkness and the light. Like so much else in this episode, that's interestingly symbolic.

Manichaeism taught an elaborate dualistic cosmology describing the struggle between a good, spiritual world of light, and an evil, material world of darkness. Through an ongoing process that takes place in human history, light is gradually removed from the world of matter and returned to the world of light, whence it came.

Manichaeism - Wikipedia

Titans embrace the Darkness, Hunters embrace the Light, and Warlocks walk between. The first hint of this type of behavior comes from the Kentarch 3. This infamous fireteam ventured into the Black Garden, received some new powers from the Darkness, and mysteriously disappeared.
