Just Hospitality: God's Welcome in a World of Difference ...

Grace is the hospitality of God to welcome sinners not because of their goodness but because of his glory. If God chose not to magnify the glory of his own self-sufficiency, and instead to enrich himself by looking for talented and virtuous housemates, there would be no grace in the world, and no hospitality, and no salvation.

Strategic Hospitality | Desiring God

In Scripture, Russell sees God's welcome or hospitality as having four overlapping components: unexpected divine presence, advocacy for the marginalized, mutual welcome and creation of community. For the church today, hospitality must be viewed as a central issue for those who want the church to matter in the larger culture.

Review of Just Hospitality - sowhatfaith.com

But nightly table fellowship, where all brothers and sisters from the church are welcome, forges relationships of belonging and growth in grace. We don't want to stop there. Nourishing the family of God and compelling those outside of God's favor to come to your table are the twin heartbeats of hospitality.
