A long time favourite strategy of mine, 'Just a Minute' takes the classic radio game and adapts it to almost any topic, text, or examination revision term. Put simply, students have to talk for a minute on the given term/topic - no pauses, no hesitations. Slips or repetitions or micro pauses lose a 'life' - three strikes and you ...

Example: $\{x \mid x \text{ is a natural number and } x < 8\}$ Reading: "the set of all x such that x is a natural number and is less than 8" So the second part of this notation is a property the members of the set share (a condition

Basic Concepts of Set Theory, Functions and Relations

Set, In mathematics and logic, any collection of objects (elements), which may be mathematical (e.g., numbers, functions) or not. The intuitive idea of a set is probably even older than that of number. Members of a herd of animals, for example, could be matched with stones in a sack without members
